Brief Description:

The Society for Data Science (S4DS) organized a hands-on Power BI workshop for 32 participants to enhance their skills in data visualization and business intelligence. Led by Mr. Ashish Kharatmol, the session provided practical insights into industry applications of Power BI through real-world exercises. Key activities included data import from diverse sources, transformation using Power Query, and data modeling with DAX to derive actionable insights. Participants created interactive visualizations like bar, line, and pie charts, along with detailed tables. A custom dashboard was developed to explore advanced filtering and interactivity, building confidence in using Power BI for professional tasks.
